Children's Art & Craft Program

Children use their creativity by designing their own project of drawing and designing a mosaic "seascape" painting. A bonus project for week two!

Taught by Seaside Park resident & artist Janie Kaminsky

When: April 10th & 17th 6:30-7:30pm

Cost: $15.00 for both lessons! (Seaside Park residents $5 discount)

History of the New Jersey Cranberry

Cranberries are one of the most unique fruits in the world! One of only three fruits native to North America, cranberries grow in the wild on long-running vines in sandy bogs and marshes. South Jersey Leni-Lenape tribes called them "ibimi," or bitter berry.

Picked the berries by hand in early times, a more efficient dry harvesting technique was developed, later revolutionizing the process called wet harvesting. By flooding the bog with water, the cranberry's buoyancy allows it to float to the surface, where they are collected.

Every autumn, usually from mid-September until around mid-November, cranberries reach their peak of color and flavor and are ready for harvesting. That's when growers harvest millions of pounds of cranberries.

Coping with Salt Water Flooding

Brown Shrubs? Crispy Lawns? Salt in the soil??

Bring your questions and learn what you can do to help your landscape and gardens recover from the floods that Sandy brought us.

Soil testing kits will be available for purchase after the program. A soil test will help you determine if excess salt is in the soil.

Program presented by The Master Gardener's of Ocean County/Rutgers Cooperative Extension of Ocean County.

Co-sponsored by Seaside Park Community Education, Seaside Park Environmental Advisory Committee & Seaside Park Garden Club.

When: Wednesday, May 15th 7-8:30pm

“Inferno at Sea”—The Morro Castle Story

Do not miss this! Authors Gretchen Coyle and Deborah Whitcraft will be in Seaside Park to talk, discuss and answer questions of the fabulous story of New Jersey’s own Titanic, the Morro Castle!

The ocean liner burned off our coast almost 80 years ago, taking down over 135 passengers with it. It’s a story of likely murder, arson & cover-ups by so many. Authors Coyle and Whitcraft have done extensive research on the ship that burned September 8, 1934, coming to rest off the beaches of Asbury Park on the fateful night. Please join us in hearing their intriguing story!

When: May 22nd 7pm
